

TABLE OF CONTENTS

2014 Volume XXX - Education in an Interconnected World

Introduction	1
---------------------------	---

ONE'S OWN COMMUNITY AND IDENTITY

Finding Maine on the Map in Town Academies
---	--

NICHOLAS MILLER.....	2
By knowing international students, a teacher deepens appreciation for his home state and world cultures.

Whether Local or Global, It's All About Community
--	--

CHELLIE PINGREE.....	4
Qualities and abilities students need in a connected world are developed with ties to their local community.

Embracing Identity Across Cultures
---	--

MIDHUN GELDER	6
The author describes the path to his cultural identity.

MULTICULTURALISM

Shining a Light on Multicultural Learning - A Teacher Travels Through Time and Events
--	--

ALEXA PERKINS and YOONJUNG CHOI	8
A teacher becomes inspired to teach authentic information about diverse cultures.

To Prepare Students for an Interconnected World - Connect with China
---	--

JOSEPH MCDONNELL and CATHERINE FALLONA	11
The University of Southern Maine's Confucius Institute connects elementary and secondary teachers and students to China.

ATTITUDES AND ABILITIES

New World, Same Critical Tools
---------------------------------------	--

SANDRA FINDLAY	14
To effectively participate in an interconnected world students need to respect others.

Forging Connections, Building Consensus: A View from the United States Senate
--	--

SUSAN M. COLLINS	16
Education must forward ethical, logical thought and action.

TECHNOLOGY

Recollections of Parallel Journeys: Early Online Education Resources
---	--

JON DOTY and ERIN ST. PETER	18
On-line courses expanded learning opportunities for a former Old Town High School student.

Professional Collaboration in the Digital Age
--	--

MICHAEL BEAUDOIN.....	22
Digital resources facilitate collegial projects regardless of distance.

Connecting to Ancient Rome with Minecraft
--	--

RAMU INDRASIMHAN	25
Minecraft inspires middle school students to learn about a culture and expand their creativity.

Bridging Maine's Diversity with Technology
---	--

HEATHER L. BALL.....	27
In Maine, diversity abounds and can be reached using technology.

2015 Journal Call for Papers
-------------------------------------	--

Supporting Professional Growth - Structures and Strategies	Inside Back Cover
---	-------------------